Mr. Ratish Tagde is founder and MD of India's first 24x7 classical based music television channel, "Insync" It was established in 2013. The rhythm of Ratish Tagde's musical life began very early and that too with perhaps the most vibrant Indian rhythmic instrument of them all, the 'Tabla'. The Child hood training by his father, Shri S.V. Tagde, inculcated not just the taalas or musical rhythms but the rhythm of life, that of human values and that of the cycle of our life.

Having made music his life, Ratish decided to probe the academic side of it and appeared for the Bachelor of Music (B. Mus.) examination in Tabla from the Khairagarha Sangeet Vishvavidhyalay, the largest Indian Music University in Asia. He has recently been appointed as the President of Musician's Federation of India which is affiliated to International Federation of Musicians & Member of International Music Council (Paris).
